

A black and white line drawing of a person's face. Instead of eyes, there is a large handgun. The handgun is a semi-automatic pistol, shown from a front-facing perspective. The slide is open, revealing the internal mechanism. On the left and right sides of the slide, there are small rectangular labels with the text "ALL STÉTIENNE" written on them. The person's face is drawn with simple lines, showing the nose, mouth, and ears. The background is a light gray with a fine dot pattern.
